Headline:

Monday, rain then showers. Strong coastal winds.

Today:

Rain, heavy in places, and freshening winds soon spreading northeast. The rain turns more showery into the afternoon, but some further heavier bursts are likely along the coast in the evening, where winds will be strong. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:

Cloudy with showery outbreaks of rain continuing through the night, and staying mild. Generally breezy, with winds strong along the coast. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tuesday:

Generally cloudy with further showery rain. The rain becomes lighter and more isolated through the afternoon. A drier evening to follow with some cloud breaks. Strong winds ease overnight. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:

Wednesday, a spell of heavy rain, then drier, brighter. Becoming windy but very mild. Thursday and Friday, often windy but very mild, further spells of rain but also drier interludes.
